

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away,
Relieves Backache and Bladder
Disorders After A Few Doses Are Taken

Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life.

The new discovery, Croxone, overcomes all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system.

It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work immediately and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate cases.

It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for restoring the lifeless organs to health and strength and ridding the system of every particle of uric acid, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure such conditions.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM THE WORLD AT LARGE.

THURSDAY.

Awaiting a definite reply from the Constitutionalists as to their attitude on mediation the envoys and delegates at Niagara transacted no business yesterday. It is thought that Carranza cannot help but accept the proposition by the mediators, which is being kept secret. The Constitutionalists agents in Washington communicated all afternoon and most of the night yesterday with Carranza over a special wire. No statement was made. The Administration officials have refused so far to say what their attitude will be toward the Antilla at Vera Cruz. The situation in the Mexican capital has been much improved by the arrival of ammunition for Huerta, as the people feel he will be able to defend the city in an adequate manner.

Confederate graves in Cave Hill cemetery and throughout Kentucky and the South were decorated yesterday, the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, whose father and four uncles fought for the Confederacy, delivering the address at Louisville. He declared a greater South had come of the conflict.

FRIDAY.

Carranza's reply to the mediators' note is the point around which the whole Mexican situation hinges last night. The Washington Administration and the delegates both are awaiting the decision of the Constitutionalists chief. At Durango the announcement was made last night that Carranza's reply would not be made until he reached Saltillo. If the rebels accept the offer of the mediators a temporary recess will be taken, but no attempt will be made to delay the proceedings unnecessarily.

Theodore Roosevelt as the Progressive party candidate for Governor of New York is the desire of the State Progressive Campaign Advisory Committee.

Chester B. Duryea, who, on May 3, shot and killed his father, Hiram Duryea, the millionaire starch manufacturer, was committed to Matteawan.

One hundred and forty-nine graduates, the largest in the history of State University, received diplomas at the annual commencement yesterday.

SATURDAY.

Arrival of the American schooner Sunshine at Tampico late yesterday with arms for the Constitutionalists caused no excitement in Washington and no change of orders was sent Admiral Badger. The Mexican war vessels are being watched, but officials refuse to say what the attitude of the United States would be if Huerta ordered a blockade. Notice of the blockade would have to be given the Powers under international law. Secretary of War Garrison yesterday took up the protest of the Hamburg-American line against paying the fine assessed by General Funston for landing arms for Huerta at Puerto Mexico. The mediators spent the day going over data already in hand. The steps taken so far are pleasing to Huerta, according to dispatches from Mexico City. Carranza, who is still on his way to Saltillo, is not expected to reply to the mediators' note for several days. He will confer with Villa today.

That the United States would not have to use any more force in Mexico was the prayer of President Wilson yesterday in his address before the graduating class at Annapolis.

SUNDAY.

The "life" with which Huerta hedged his offer of resignation have been withdrawn according to a statement issued yesterday by the Mexican envoys to the Mediation Conference. In this statement they explain that by "political pacification" Huerta meant peace, but not the absolute elimination of all disorder. While awaiting the reply of Carranza the mediators and envoys practically have agreed on a plan of action which includes the elimination of Huerta. Messages from Torreon indicate that Carranza will reply by agreeing to enter mediation on all international questions, but will not submit internal affairs or declare an armistice. This probably will be accepted.

A compromise amendment to the Tolls Repeal Bill, drawn by Senator Simmons for the Administration forces, and Senator Norris for the Republicans, will be offered when the bill comes to a vote in the Senate, which is expected to be tomorrow.

Examining the cork leg of Henry Wise, who died of starvation in a Denver hospital, the authorities found $8,000 concealed within the appliance.

MONDAY.

Huerta's determination to blockade the port of Tampico has brought about a crisis in the Mexican situation which may end the mediation conferences now on at Niagara Falls and cause war between the United States and Mexico. The only statement that the Government officials would make last night was that they still considered Tampico an open port, but whether or not they intended to have the United States warships prevent the blockade was not stated. The mediators at Niagara are very much worried over the new development and it seems certain that if the blockade is interfered with the Mexican envoys will be withdrawn. The Huerta gunboats are due off Tampico this morning, and the Constitutionalists have already fortified the land overlooking the harbor to resist any attack.

Friends of Judge R. O. Pace, of Greenville, whose garage was destroyed by fire which damaged his automobile, believe that the blaze was started by friends of the so-called "Possum Hunter" to whose prosecution he had given active assistance.

TUESDAY.

Final action on the mediation protocol providing for the pacification of Mexico is expected today or tomorrow following the submission of a peace plan approved by the United States Government to the mediators. This plan is said to have been agreed on practically by the Huerta government and provides for the setting up of a provisional government and a speedy general election. Huerta yesterday morning called off the blockade order which he had issued against Tampico. No answer has been made by Carranza as yet to the note of the mediators. It is said the mediators have about abandoned hope of an answer.

NOBODY'S DARLING.

FIRE BLIGHT OR PEAR BLIGHT.

Fire blight is one of the most serious of all the diseases attacking the pear and the apple. Nearly every pear and apple orchard at the present time shows indications of the presence of this disease. The leaves are turning brown, especially at the ends of the new growth, and they stand out in sharp contrast to the surrounding green foliage. When first noticed, only a tip of a branch appears to be infested, but if left undisturbed soon the whole limb and even the trunk of the tree will be infested.

Blight is caused by a minute germ or organism that lives during the dormant season in cankers, resulting from infection the previous season. In order to properly control this disease it is necessary that the orchardist be able to recognize these holdover cankers because if every holdover canker could be disposed of before the sap starts to flow in the spring the disease would be eradicated.

The presence of the canker is usually indicated by the appearance of the bark. Under ordinary conditions there is a sharp line of demarcation separating the dead tissue from the healthy. In many instances the bark is broken due to the contracting of the surrounding tissues. This is especially noticeable around fruit spurs and water sprouts on the larger limbs where the cankers are more apt to be found.

As soon as the sap starts to flow in the spring, a syrupy exudate containing the germs is given off from the holdover cankers. This exudate serves to attract bees and other insects and later on they fly to nearby blossoms and broken bark tissues, spreading the disease as they travel. The germs multiply very rapidly and in a short time the leaves surrounding the blossoms and twigs begin to die. Gradually it works down to the larger limbs, often spreading at the rate of a foot a day.

The disease appears to spread more rapidly on pears and quinces than on apples. On the apple it is often termed "twig blight" because usually only the younger twigs seem to be affected and not the larger branches.

Since the trouble is under the bark it becomes apparent at once that no external application in the form of a spray can be applied. The most logical thing to do is to cut out the cankers where it winters over. The orchardist should be inspected carefully several times and all suspicious areas of any kind should be cut out in order to be safe. Pruning during the summer is also a good plan but it is not as practical as winter pruning. If a large limb is removed the cut should be made several inches below the dead area in order to avoid any chance of further infection. For the ends of branches the long handled pruning shears are very effective.

Always burn the diseased limbs as soon as they are cut. The trees should be gone over week at least and in many cases more often in order to dispose of the first indications of trouble.

GOLF—AN APPRECIATION.

Golf is a fiery furnace that tries the souls of men. It refines the dross from their nature and purges them of all uncleanness. What it does for the physical man it also does for the spiritual. When one has a thorough training at golf his soul is attuned to higher things. If he had a temper, the attrition of conflict and trial has changed it into a spirit that suffers and is still. He has learned to put his tongue in leash, to confine its utterances to the game, without expressing his opinion of his partner or his opponent. It will make a sour heart kindly, distill into drops of heavenly dew the percolations of the most acrid disposition, and make the rose of resignation blossom on the dreariest cheek. It can transform a heathen into a Christian and light the torch of hope in his arid breast. Golf teaches patience, self-control and forgiveness. In the fierce light of one's own delinquencies, our neighbors' notes are not discernible. Freed from corroding cares, fancy on the fair green dons a new and iridescent plumage. The heart has no room for hate; the mind is clarified as in an alembic; the vision encompasses fair and far horizons; the uplands, gleaming tender green in the sun, are heights worth winning. Mean souls shrivel in contemplation of the frankness and manliness it engenders. Golf regenerates, reforms, recreates. It makes companions out of recluses and good fellows out of bad ones.
